MANY OF TROOPS EVACUATE SUCHOW (BULLETIN)

NANKING, Dec. 1.—(INS)—China's Nationalist government decided to maintain its capital in Nanking today, despite the push of Communist troops to within 100 miles of the city.

The legislative Yuan voted that no high-ranking government officials will be permitted to leave their posts or resign during the current emergency.

Airforce Evacuates

Meanwhile, reports from Shanghai said that the bulk of the Nationalist airforce has evacuated the key bastion of Suchow, 165 miles north of Nanking.

Commercial airlines were ordered to cease landing at the Communist-encircled city, gateway to the Nanking-Shanghai area as the Communist ring tightened. Some Red troops were reported only six miles southwest of the city.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's 21-year-old Nationalist regime faced its gravest emergency since the Japanese invasion as Red armies battered at the defenses of Pengpu, 100 miles northwest of Nanking.

A quarter of a million Nationalist troops were evacuating the pivot of Suchow, 175 miles northwest of the capital, and trying to penetrate a Communist ring southward toward Pengpu.

Sharp Drops In Meat Prices

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—(INS)—Consumer resistance and seasonal increases in supplies were blamed today for sharp nationwide drops in retail and wholesale meat prices.

Declines ranging up to 32 percent in retail prices of all cuts of meat were reported in an International News Service survey. The refusal of the average housewife to pay higher prices was listed as one of the prime factors in forcing the drop.

A 16 percent drop in wholesale prices since the mid-September summer peak was noted by the American Meat Institute. The AMI said that unusually heavy shipments of livestock to the markets were instrumental in causing the price dips.

L. G. Mitten, R. D. 5, bagged a nine-point buck, weighing 150 pounds, Tuesday morning, about 10:30 o'clock while hunting near Kane.

Stanley Sharek, Jr., of 702 East Long avenue, was successful in bagging a four-point buck while hunting with his father in Elk county, Monday.

One of Pa Newc's boys, who came through the deer country last evening, reported that state police and game wardens had established a road block, just outside Oil City, and made every motorist, whether he looked like a hunter or not, show the contents of his car. They even looked into the trunks to see that no illegal deer were being carried out.

Linton Bupp, 104 South Crawford avenue, is another of the hunters who returned from the big game country with a buck to his credit. His kill was obtained near DuBois, Monday at 8:45 a. m. and was a 150 pound six pointer.

TOKYO, Dec. 1.—Hideki Tojo was disgusted today to have voiced his "disgust" over the delay in the executions of the "Pearl Harbor Premier" and his six condemned colleagues.

Japan's number one war criminal was quoted as having reiterated the hope that he would be hanged as quickly as possible.

This disclosure was made as Gen. Douglas MacArthur issued an order formalizing the reprieves he granted the Tojo group, pending action by the U. S. supreme court on appeals filed by two of the doomed warmarkers.

Kreaps Retires After 30 Years

Letter Carrier Ends Long Service On Tuesday Afternoon In City

After fifteen times around the earth delivering mail to residents of New Castle, Francis A. Kreaps, hung up his mailbag for the last time Tuesday afternoon, and today began living the "life of Riley."

Kreaps completed over 30 years of service, having started in as a carrier here on July 16, 1918. Through all kinds of weather, "Frank" as he is more familiarly known to his friends, has faithfully performed his duties, and has handled tons of letters and magazines for the people he has served on his route, which for a number of years, has been on the East Side.

It is estimated that he has walked around 4,000 miles per year in the performance of his duties, which multiplied by 30, would make exactly 120,000 miles he has covered during this time. It might be a little more than that, and it might be a little less. However, Frank is now going to take time (Continued on Page Ten)

U. S. Endorses British Move On Palestine

Resolution Calls On Israel To Yield Part Of Negev Area Or Western Galilee

By JOSEPH L. RANFT
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Dec. 1.—The United States endorsed today a British resolution calling on Israel to yield either part of the Negev area or western Galilee.

U. S. Delegate M. Dean Rusk told the United Nations political committee: "We believe prompt assembly action on the British resolution will lead to an early settlement."

Rusk said that the British resolution, which also calls for internationalization of Jerusalem, Haifa, and the Lydda airport, is a "serious and on the whole successful effort to meet the views of the U. S. and other delegations." He declared:

"No party should expect to obtain all the advantageous features of both the November (partition) resolution and the Bernadotte report."

Earlier Israeli spokesman Aubrey Eban condemned the new Anglo-American plan as "unacceptable" to Israel, and Syria warned that the Arabs may "revive the crusades" to seize Moslem shrines in Israeli hands.

The American termed the British draft a "moderate, balanced whole which we are prepared to support."

Western Powers Plan Possible Steps, Result Of Red Berlin Move

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Dec. 1.—The big three western powers warned today that they consider themselves free to take any "necessary" measures to counter-act the Soviet splitting of Berlin.

(One immediate possibility was that the U. S., Britain and France might revive charges in the Security Council that Russia, by its Berlin tactics, is threatening the peace of the world.)

The warning was contained in a tri-power note to Argentine Foreign Minister Juan A. Bramuglia made public today. The note accepted, with considerable reservations, Bramuglia's proposal to appoint a "neutral" committee of currency experts to compromise the deadlock. It declared:

"The three western powers cannot agree that they should submit to all Soviet measures which add (Continued on Page Two)

"Other Woman" In Many Divorce Cases

'Phony-Divorce' Ring Is Probed

May Result In Invalidation Of Numerous Divorces In New York

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—(INS)—District Attorney Frank Hogan today pressed an investigation of the sensational "phony-divorce" ring whose fantastic operations may result in the invalidation of numerous uncontested divorces.

Under arrest are five men and a woman, charged with operating the "divorce mill" in New York City.

Hogan announced he will examine all uncontested divorces in New York county during the past two years to ascertain whether the couples were illegally separated.

Application will be made to the supreme court today to study the records of about 9,000 cases.

Those Under Arrest

The persons under arrest include two attorneys, a law clerk, a private detective, a fourth man, and a 20-year-old mother of three, who served as the "other woman" in the ring's scheme.

The woman is Mrs. Sarah Ellis, who unfolded the sensational story to Hogan yesterday. She told him that her job was to be "surprised" in apparently compromising situations with married men, so that the wives could secure uncontested divorces.

Under New York state law, the only grounds for divorce is adultery, and "evidence" is needed to substantiate it.

The lawyers involved are Barnett Muffs, 48, and Luther Georges, 61. The law clerk is Harry Ulanoff. Also arrested were Sam Schneiderman, 57, who reportedly perjured himself in one action, and Max Zuckerman, 53, a private detective.

Berlin City Hall Is Taken Over By Red Regime

Soviet Sponsored Rump Administration Seizes Control Of Buildings

EMERGENCY STATE DECLARED IN CITY (BULLETIN)

BERLIN, Dec. 1.—(INS)—Berlin's legally-elected city assembly proclaimed a "state of emergency" today to cope with the Soviet-sponsored rump administration that has seized the city hall.

Armed Soviet-sector police barred the elected acting-mayor, Dr. Ferdinand Friedensburg from the city hall this morning on the ground he had no "right" there.

To Meet Daily

Shortly thereafter the non-Communist assembly voted to continue to meet daily during the current crisis, and defy the Russian puppet regime. Their meetings will have to be in the western sector of Berlin, since the city hall is in the Russian part of the city.

The west sector assembly, which has the support of the U. S., Britain and France, denounced the Communist administration as an "illegality."

Earlier the Soviet-sponsored government asked the western military governors for recognition and were summarily turned down. Gen. Jean Ganeval, French Berlin commandant, termed the rival Communist administration "A masquerade of democracy."

"Serious Consequences" He warned that the Communists' political splitting of Berlin might have "serious consequences."

The East-sector administrative group—or magistrat—scheduled its first meeting for tomorrow.

Liaison officers of the three western powers were bluntly told that although they could go to their offices in the building, they cannot have visitors.

The Soviet-sponsored guards declared that "by orders of the new lord mayor, Friederich Ebert," (Continued on Page Ten)

Russians Attempted Seizure Of Power In Berlin Will Not Drive Allies Out

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—(INS)—Undersecretary of State Lovett declared today that the Russians are "mistaken" if they feel that their attempted seizure of authority in Berlin will drive the Allies out of the German capital.

Lovett made his comment at a weekly news conference. It was the first formal United States reaction to the sudden Soviet move which many believe may make impossible a settlement of the Berlin issue.

There's a lot of whispering on, and a lot of quizzical looks, and scribbling of names on note paper pads, and hiding the paper in books. There's a lot of conspiring going on as they gather in corners to talk, and once in a while a step in the room. I'm invited to take a long walk. Army Would Drop One-Year Program

Ready To Drop Program For One Year Training Of 18-Year-Olds

By GEORGE MOISE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1. — The Army is ready today to drop the 18-year-old, one-year enlistment program, if it gets the chance. Forced by budget limitations to slash the January draft call in half, from 20,000 to 10,000, the Army is looking for ways to save money for what it considers essential—trained manpower. The Army never considered the one-year enlistment economical or a source of manpower.

Army officials can not as yet talk about their legislative program for the new Congress. The program can not be worked out officially until the budget is approved by the budget bureau. And until then budget matters are taboo for discussion.

Would Like Draftee Funds
But a check in Army headquarters shows that top officials would like nothing better than to have the funds allotted to the 18-year-old program available for training more draftees, who are in for 21 months, or for enlistees, who join for three years.

The longer periods of service can provide men for the Army's commitments—occupation troops in Germany, Austria, Japan and Korea, and a mobile combat reserve in the United States. Most Army men argue that because of the short period of enlistment, 18-year-olds can't even be used for mobile reserve.

And they can't be sent out of the country for occupation duties. The law forbids that.

The 18-year-old program is a failure to date. Adopted as a substitute for universal military training, it was supposed to supply the armed services with 161,000 men a year.

In five months it has provided the Army with 12,928 one-year men, the Air Force with 3,203 and the Navy and Marines with 9,675, for a total of 25,806, or 47 per cent of expectations.

The idea behind the one-year enlistment was that they, like UMT, would provide a trained reserve. If the program continues to fail as badly as it has, it might provide as many as 50,000 trained reserves a year.

WESTERN POWERS PLAN POSSIBLE MOVE AT BERLIN

to or intensify the blockade, or which interfere with the city administration, while the Soviet remains wholly uncommitted to any restraint.

"The three governments therefore repeat the reservation of their right, declared in the Security Council, to take such measures as may be necessary to maintain their position in Berlin."

The note pointed out that Russia has taken a number of steps to split Berlin further since the Soviets vetoed the last compromise proposal October 25.

Sharp Warning
Western sources pointed out that the note is tantamount to a sharp warning that unless Russia ceases efforts to disrupt peaceful operation of the Berlin government the west may revive its Security Council charges.

This time, it was said, the west will probably insist that the council ban Soviet acts in Berlin as a threat to world peace under chapter seven of the U.N. charter—which provides for possible economic, diplomatic and military sanctions.

Such action was asked by the west before, but under pressure from the anti-nation council members, who sought a compromise, it was dropped.

However, observers generally agreed that Soviet action in replacing a "rump" government to replace the legally-elected city officials changes the situation considerably.

The new Soviet action cast a pall of gloom and foreboding over compromise talk. In this tense atmosphere neutral currency experts gathered to discuss a new formula to end the deadlock. Many observers fear the splitting of Berlin has been made permanent.

action made it possible for the families of the condemned to see them once again. Accordingly, the families of all seven, including Tojo, visited the doomed men in Tokyo's Sugamo prison.

MacArthur announced that all the condemned had been advised of their temporary stays of execution. The announcement added:

"In conformity with prison routine the monthly visit of the immediate families of these individuals for the month of December is being permitted."

Tojo's attitude toward his reprieve was reportedly expressed yesterday to an American lawyer, Ben Bruce Blakeney, of Oklahoma City, when the latter visited the ex-premier at Sugamo.

Tojo "Disgusted"
Blakeney had gone to see Tojo to obtain an affidavit in behalf of a lesser accused war criminal, Lt. Gen. Hiroshi Tamura, former head of the Japanese army's prisoner of war management bureau.

The American defense attorney refused to confirm or deny the report that Tojo was irked at the delay in his execution. But Blakeney's intimates revealed that Tojo had told him the reprieve was "disgusting."

Earlier, Tojo told his own American lawyer, George Blewett, of Philadelphia, that he hoped Gen. MacArthur would "promptly" order that he, Tojo, be put to death on the gallows "without delay."

MME. CHIANG KAI-SHEK REACHES WASHINGTON TO SEEK AID FOR CHINA

famed as one of the world's ablest representatives of her sex, appeared weary from the long air journey but she was smiling broadly as she stepped from the big DC-4.

Mme. Chiang walked swiftly to a waiting limousine for the drive to the Marshall estate, where she will be a house guest.

Will Seek U. S. Aid
At the Marshall home, she will map her desperate battle to win from the United States government and the nation's military leaders immediate support for her husband's forces, now engaged in a bitter struggle with Communist armies.

Chinese Ambassador Wellington Koo was in the reception party at the airport. He was flanked by a number of embassy officials.

Mme. Chiang flashed radiant smile as she was presented with a huge bouquet of American Beauty roses by nine-year-old Judy Wang, daughter of S. C. Wang, embassy counselor.

Others in the welcoming group included Stanley Woodward, state department chief of Protocol; Walton Butterworth, chief of the state department's far eastern division; and Col. Robert H. Landry, President Truman's air aide, who represented the White House.

Tired After Long Trip
Mme. Chiang explained to a waiting corps of newsmen that she was tired from her air trip halfway around the world and would make no statement for the moment.

The battle she is prepared to wage is for immediate American aid to save her husband's government from the Communists but experts believe her mission will fail. It was pointed out that President Truman has said that further aid to China can be authorized only by the 81st congress which does not convene until Jan. 3.

Some Developments
Madame Chiang's arrival was preceded by these developments:

1. Foreign Aid Administrator Paul G. Hoffman announced he will visit Shanghai Dec. 11 during a flying inspection of aid operations in China, England and Korea and report back to Mr. Truman Dec. 20.

2. H. H. Kung, former Chinese premier and finance minister, said his conference with President Truman Tuesday covered the general world situation and not China in particular.

3. It was learned that a group of army officers, combat veterans of the Chinese theater in World War II, have laid a plan before congress to save China from Communism.

Which Funeral Home Shall We Call? . . .

When this important question is neglected until the need makes an immediate answer necessary, there is no longer time for investigation.

It is much better to give some thought to the matter before necessity makes any hasty decision necessary. In that way you are far more apt to choose the funeral director who will serve you in a satisfactory manner.

Boyd Funeral Service invites consultation and investigation. There is nothing about our method of doing business that the public may not know.

Godey's Lady's Playett D.A.R. Sponsored Event

Costumes And Stage Settings Authentic, Centered Around 1878 Bride's Trousseau

Godey's Lady's Playett to be presented Saturday afternoon, December 4, in the auditorium of the YWCA sponsored by Lawrence chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution promises a most entertaining and delightful afternoon.

The playett, originated by Mrs. Albert Chambers of Canfield, O., is in costume portraying a bride of 1878 and her trousseau.

Mrs. M. M. Diehl plays the leading role as the bride and model, Mrs. Chambers the aunt.

All costumes and the stage setting are authentic for the period and the dresses, wraps and bonnets modeled are very beautiful.

The trunks and other properties came to the western Reserve in covered wagons early in the 19th century.

A bit of comedy is injected into parts of the playett and members and guests planning to attend anticipate an afternoon of real enjoyment.

Music will be interspersed throughout the playette. Mrs. William J. Caldwell will sing "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia", Brahms' "Lullaby" and "I Love You Truly" with Mrs. Jay L. Reed as accompanist.

Proceeds of the playett have been earmarked for the Kate Duncan Smith school to provide a water system for the school as now the pupils have to carry water to school in bottles for drinking water.

Kate Duncan Smith school is supported by the Daughters of the American Revolution and has been chosen as the state DAR project to be completed this year.

Report On Progress Of Seal Sale Drive

Slightly More Than One Fifth Of Quota Achieved In First Week Of Campaign

Results of the first seven days of the Tuberculosis Society's Christmas seal drive in Lawrence county reveal that more than 21 percent of the quota has been achieved.

Mrs. Jane Cochran, secretary, announced today that 2,659 letters have been returned out of more than 20,000 that were mailed Nov. 22-23. These letters carried contributions totaled $3,291.30, or a little more than the one-fifth of the goal of $16,000.

The drive is currently running a little bit behind the 1947 figures but it is anticipated that the first of the month will bring enough contributions to equal or better the corresponding figures for last year.

Seal sale booths have been opened in many downtown locations. Mrs. C. W. Barnes has charge of the booth at the New Castle Store, Mrs. J. W. Stauffer has one in the First National Bank, Stanley Sokolowski sells seals in the Post Office lobby, Mrs. Marjorie Young directs the booth in the Lawrence Savings and Trust Co. bank, and Mrs. D. W. Nesbitt, Sr., is in charge of the booth in Strouss-Hirschberg's store.

are represented in the alliance but they have no veto power as they do in the United Nations.

Such a trusteeship for a period of 25 or 30 years would be in accord with the political temper of western Europe today. It would not give the communists a propaganda weapon as present American policy has done. Nor would Gen. DeGaulle be able to make political capital out of such a proposal.

Lead To Disaster

To turn the Ruhr back to German ownership without any real safeguards is to impose American policy against the deepest instincts of all Europe. We would be assuming responsibility for consequences that might lead directly to a final disaster for the west.

While it would give Russia a formidable propaganda weapon, this is not all that is involved. Fear of German rearmament for another war is real and deep in the Soviet Union. Robert E. Sherwood, in his remarkable book "Roosevelt and Hopkins," tells how at the Teheran conference Marshal Stalin said that the United Nations should maintain control over strategic points in both Germany and Japan to prevent future aggression.

Soon Under Secretary of State Robert A. Lovett will begin negotiations for the north Atlantic security pact. In the face of declared American policy on the Ruhr, the French are certain to want far-reaching guarantees that this country commit itself in advance to use all its force against any nation attacking one of the signatories. Congress would hardly go that far. Here, then, may be the irresistible force and the immovable object.

the promise and to begin placing greater obstacles in the way of supplying food and other necessities to Berlin's population.

The situation since the repudiation of this agreement has been continually aggravated by Communist attempts to take over the Berlin city government and by perpetual efforts to create sentiment against the Western Powers through rioting, demonstrations and "incidents." The ominous thing is that it shows the determination of the Moscow government to use any means toward achieving its end—the full possession of Berlin—including falsehood and terrorism.

The Assembly in all probability will find itself blocked by Soviet satellites from taking constructive action on this serious problem. But the one thing that may be demonstrated is that Russia has no proper place in an association of honorable nations.

some 750,000 Arab refugees from battle-torn Palestine can only be aggravated if the Arab states pull out of U. N. deliberations and benefits.

Resolutions already have been adopted for relief of the refugees and international measures in behalf of them. Leaders of the Arab states might find themselves embarrassed with their own people if they took precipitate action.

Likewise, Great Britain probably would look with disfavor on Arab withdrawal. London's anxiety to find a solution appears reflected in the decision not to veto Israel admission, for this is at least an implied approval of the new state's right to seek a place in the family of nations.

Reports persist in Tel Aviv that some sort of conversations already are proceeding between Jews and Arabs but on what level cannot be determined. The saving of face is important in the Arab lands. It is highly debatable whether they could gain enough in self-satisfaction to compensate for the losses inevitable in resignation from the United Nations.

U. S. Offers Other Nations Fishing Rights In Pacific

By JOHN DRUCKENBROD

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—The United States has offered to let Russia and other nations of the world send huge fishing fleets into restricted areas of the Central Pacific.

A Navy department order opened up about one and three quarter million square miles, including areas adjacent to the atomic proving grounds at Eniwetok, to commercial fishing interests of "all nations" on a non-discriminatory basis.

The action also will permit foreign nation, subject to Navy licenses, to fish off the strategic Marshall, Caroline and Marianas islands and build canneries and other commercial facilities there. Russia is considered likely to be one of the first nations to ask for fishing licenses in the area.

The Soviet already is reported to be massing a huge fleet of fishing boats and canneries for tuna operations off Mexico, Central and South America. The Central Pacific offers a wide variety of fish but, like Latin America, is particularly rich in tuna.

A Navy spokesman said that Russia is not among "a number of commercial fishing companies" which have asked about fishing licenses for the Central Pacific during the past year.

But officials pointed out that the Navy action constitutes an offer which is being extended to Russia and "whatever other nations want to take us up on it."

Formerly Held by Japanese

The Pacific area being opened comprises the islands and water held by Japanese mandate before Pearl Harbor and now administered by the Navy as "trust territory" under United Nations agreement. It is a five-sided area nearly seven thousand miles in circumference.

Under today's order, fishing licenses will be granted by the deputy high commissioner of the "trust territory" whose headquarters are on the naval stronghold of Guam in the Marianas. The Navy said that these licenses will be "subject to revocation or modification whenever security or the interest of local inhabitants are involved."

Prosperity To Continue In 1949, Forecast

By WILLIAM KERWIN
(U. S. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—The federal experts predicted today that "defense activities and foreign aid commitments" assure continued prosperity and employment in the United States in 1949.

The favorable outlook came from a combination of reports from the Federal Security Agency, the Commerce Department and the Labor Department.

Private industry also added its voice to the prosperity picture.

Robert C. Goodwin, director of FSA's Bureau of Employment Security told Administrator Ewing that the increase in October which got underway in October would continue through Christmas and into 1949. He said:

Should Take Up Slack

"Future manpower needs of our expanding defense activities and foreign aid commitments should more than take up any slack in employment that may develop in industries which have caught up or will catch up with demand in coming months."

"The outlook... is for a continuation of the low unemployment conditions."

Goodwin declared that "Notwithstanding some soft spots which have appeared in such fields as textiles, furniture and shoe manufacture and normal seasonal declines in construction and food processing, the overall employment picture looks good with labor demand strong."

The Commerce Department said new construction for 1949 probably will set a dollar volume record for building activity, a view which is shared by the Labor Department.

The two agencies predicted the mark will reach eighteen billion 750 million dollars, but added: "Physical volume of construction in 1949... apparently will be about the same as 1948, and thus remain appreciably below previous physical volume records set in the 1920's and in 1942."

At the same time, the American Telephone and Telegraph Company reported that telephones in the United States now total about thirty eight million, or about one for every four persons in the country. This is a all-time high.

HAVE YOU A GRACEFUL WALK

"Why not devote a column to the importance of graceful movements of a woman's feet and legs? Have you ever noticed the way some women move theirs? An awkward walk can ruin the effect of even a beautiful pair of legs. Pardon this male criticism but I can't help noticing that so many women waddle like ducks."

Answer: A graceful walk and posture are, indeed, important—almost as much so as a good figure and streamlined legs.

After a girl outgrows flat heels and bobby socks (which should be at 18), she should give up running. If you doubt my word, watch women run in high-heeled shoes.

Another movement difficult for women is turning around. Most of them turn on one foot, propelling their bodies by swinging the other leg. It is not necessary at all to take a step when turning—merely turn on the balls of their feet—a la military training.

When walking or standing, a woman should keep her legs close together—not straddled awkwardly—toes pointed straight ahead, swerving neither to the right nor to the left.

While leg-crossing is not recommended, it is permissible. She who does so should be sure that the leg is crossed well over and will not extend in mid-air, with the possibility of tripping someone.

These are suggestions for developing a proper walk: Pretend you are walking on a line. It need not be a straight line. This will prevent the zigzagging gait so often seen. Take neither short, quick steps nor long slow ones—strive for a happy medium between the two. Shoulders back, head up to prevent that unattractive slump.

Queen Elizabeth Finally Sails

Giant Liner Steams Out Of Southampton Harbor 11 Days Behind Schedule

LONDON, Dec. 1.—(INS)—The strike and fog-harried Queen Elizabeth steamed out of Southampton harbor for New York today, eleven days behind schedule. The world's largest liner, delayed eight-days by a strike of British seamen in sympathy with New York dockworkers, and three days by a record-breaking fog, weighed anchor at 4:15 a.m. EST.

It followed the liner Aquitania out of the harbor, in which the Queen Mary was also gathering steam for immediate sailing.

The thick British fog which held up the ships was blamed for a train collision in which four persons were killed and 50 injured. The fog blanketed most of the British Isles today, and surpassed a previous record set in London in December 1944, by nearly 24 hours.

Everyday, in the United States, physicians examine 16,000 applicants for life insurance.

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 1.—(INS)—A $50,000 gift by the Pennsylvania Railroad to the University of Pittsburgh building fund today brought total donations to the fund to $4,829,480.

Alan M. Scaife, campaign executive committee chairman, termed the gift "another indication of industry's determination to build a greater university for a greater Pittsburgh."

Other corporations which have contributed to the fund include the U.S. Steel Corp., $300,000; West-all members of the old city council, elected by the people, are banned from entering the building. Friedensburg and his secretaries, refused admission to their offices, left the area after conferring with the police commander of the building.

Red Regime Moves In
Ignoring the democratically-elected city government, the new Russian-sponsored city regime moved into the building, took over all records and files, and proceeded to complete their split of the former German capital.

Then, in cynical disregard of their lack of legal status, the Communists demanded that the three western powers recognized them as the city's sole government. The reply from the west was a sharp "No."

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American military governor termed creation of the new regime a violation of four power agreements. He demanded that Soviet military governor Marshal Vassily Sokolovsky explain whether it took power "with the connivance of Soviet authorities."

BRAMUGLIA IS CONFIDENT OF BERLIN SUCCESS

speed race between mounting perils and conflicts and the attempts being made to solve the problems.

"But together we will work enthusiastically and tenaciously for peace."

"Despite my departure, Argentina's presence will be felt."

Asked whether solution of the Berlin issue will lead to a broader discussion of international difficulties, Bramuglia said:

"Without a solution of the Berlin question it is rather difficult to discuss other items. Full discussion will be welcomed when possible."

Bramuglia was asked to define the present focal point of world danger. He answered:

"I urge public opinion and world statesmen to watch carefully the situations in Palestine, Kashmir and Korea."

"The Security Council is continuing its work in the spirit of its creators — namely to promote harmony and peace. Despite difficulties I am hopeful this work will bring favorable results."

PALESTINE TRUCE IS NOW IN EFFECT

shelling and rifle fire that has made life in the Holy City a nightmare for over a year.

Jewish inhabitants saw the Jerusalem agreement as a good omen for the fledgling state of Israel. News of its signing coincided with the disclosure that the United Nations Security Council will discuss Israel's membership application on Thursday.

Note of Encouragement
Another note of encouragement for the Jews was Britain's backtracking on the Bernardotte plan, which awarded the Negev desert to the Arabs.

The truce signing was distinguished by the extreme friendliness of the two negotiating officers, Israel's Lt. Col. Abdullah Bey El Tel.

Under terms of the agreement signed in government house, both sides are obliged to observe the armistice until such time as a final Palestine solution is reached.

The agreement further calls for complete freedom of movement behind Arab and Jewish lines in the Holy City.

himself to be quoted directly. He said:

"If the Soviets feel that this to be driven out of Berlin by force action alters our determination not they are mistaken."

Other State department officials privately described the Soviet action as a customary "transparent device" which follows a "habitual pattern of pressure and intimidation."

It was pointed out that the same sort of behavior has marked Soviet activities in various satellite states.

The State department officials recalled that last September when delicate negotiations were going on to lift the Berlin blockade mobs stormed the Berlin city hall and committed other similar acts of terror and intimidation.

Moreover, they said, the present disturbance completely violates a four-power agreement two years ago to hold free elections in Berlin on December 5.

"OYSTERS AND CUSTARD"

These two articles of food are alike in one way. They are both soft.

They do not need much chewing. Babies can manage custard pretty well. Egg and milk and sugar make a pretty good combination. Buster does not smear it on his ears as much as he does some other things. It is not so sticky either.

Oysters are rich in copper. We do not need a big lot of copper in our food but we must have some. They are just about half as rich in nourishment as other kinds of fish and meat are. Six large oysters provide about 100 calories, just about the same as a glass of milk or an egg or a slice of bread.

Perhaps we are too serious about our eating sometimes. Maybe it is just as well to get reckless occasionally and eat things because we like them just for the fun of it.

The marmots are rodents of the ground-squirrel family.

Seek Guardian For Woman Found With $140,000 On Person

Woman Identified As Mrs. Jean Mary Cunningham Tried To Give Fortune Away

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 1.—(INS)—A court-appointed guardian was requested today for a 60-year-old woman who was taken into protective police custody after a waiter saw $100 bills dropping from her purse while she was dining at the Bellevue-Stratford hotel in Philadelphia.

The petition seeking the guardian, was filed by Superintendent of Police Howard P. Sutton, and Dallett Jones, assistant manager of the hotel, and stated that the woman, identified as Mrs. Jean Mary Cunningham, had cash and securities worth $140,000 in her possession when examined.

The suit claimed Mrs. Cunningham was found "in a dazed condition" in the hotel dining room and that she was "unable to protect herself or her property."

No Background

Assistant Police Superintendent George Richardson confiscated the wealth until the hearing, scheduled for December 13. He said a police check failed to reveal any background of the woman except that she may have come from Detroit.

The values on her person consisted of common and preferred stock of General Motors Corp., and $19,215 in cash.

A replevin suit, seeking the return of her valuables to her, was filed by two attorneys yesterday. The woman had been reported staying "with friends" at suburban Paoli.

Richardson said she at first wanted to turn over all her wealth to the waiter, and then at police headquarters, she offered to give it all to the police pension fund.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By Ernest G. Osborne

WHY NOT TRY THIS

Life Patterns for Modern Mothers Fifty or seventy five years ago a woman could count on a busy and useful life giving all her time the many more home-making tasks and the likelihood that her grandchildren would be living nearby made for a life-long, full-time career as wife, mother and grandmother. Today things have changed and consequently, today's women face a different and relatively new life pattern.

In the modern home, with a smaller number of children and with those children often moving away from home as they reach college or marrying year, Mrs. Twentieth Century is no longer a full-time homemaker. If she attempts to be, she is likely to be left high and dry in the early forties.

Important as the role of homemaker continues to be, modern women by the very nature of the situation, need to develop out-of-home interests for the early years of marriage. During the time that children are young, those interests may not be very time-consuming. Later as children grow older, church, school and community activities can absorb more of her time.

In working for the improvement of community services, for better politics, for more effective education, today's woman is not only building for herself a feeling of being worthwhile but is helping develop for all families the values which she tried to maintain for her own family.

DUST SWINE WITH DDT TO KILL LICE

Winter is a good time to prevent the usual accumulation of hog lice. USE DDT dust in a 10 per cent concentration, "rubbing" the powder down into the hairs to be effective against the hog lice. In addition, spread some of the DDT dust in the litter or other places in the pen where hogs usually lie down, to get as effective control as possible. Using oil, such as is usually done in summer, is impractical at this season since it makes the pigs uncomfortable, and often subjects the hogs to "catching cold."

One precaution necessary in using DDT is to keep the material out of all feed and out of drinking water or water containers.

GARDEN SEEDS KEEP IN PROPER STORAGE

Vegetable seeds, including snapbeans, lima beans and peas, all of which were held over from 1948 by many growers and suppliers, will be all right for use in 1949 if they are properly stored.

Of particular importance, is to keep the seeds at a temperature of about 50 degrees F. It is not necessary or desirable to keep them in cold storage, but they should not be held in heated rooms.

Home-grown seeds and those held over should be tested before planting to be assured of their germination.

MORE LIGHT

Lights around the house often seem dim at this time of year when evenings are longer. The light from lamps often can be increased simply by arranging for more and better reflection.

White or light colors reflect light but dark colors absorb it. So a lamp shade which is dark inside actually wastes light. A white paper lining or a coat of white paint of even white shoe polish on the inside may double or triple the light given off.

The shape of the shade counts, too, in the amount of light shed. Wide flaring shades give off more than narrow shades with straight sides. For best distribution of light table lamps need shade 14 to 16 inches across the bottom, and large floor lamps need shades 18 to 20 inches across the bottom. The height of the lamp also is important. A short floor lamp—about 45 inches from floor to bottom of shade, for example—is usually better than a tall one because the light source is nearer the book or other place where ample light is needed. A table lamp on the other hand, should not be so short that the shade comes close to the table and cuts off the spread of light needed. When used on a desk or reading table, a table lamp about 15 inches from table to bottom of shade is generally right. If taller than this, the white lining

Renew Battle

Trucking Industry Seeks Lifting Of Weight Limits On Tractors And Trucks

OTHER NEWS OF STATE EVENTS

HARRISBURG, Dec. 1. — (INS) — Pennsylvania's trucking industry has fired the opening gun in renewal of its campaign to lift weight restrictions on tractors and tandem axle semi-trailers. Known variously as "big rigs" and "boxcars," the huge four- or six-wheel tractors and double axle trailers are limited to 45,000 pounds. The industry wants to boost the limit to 62,000 pounds. The State Highways Department has opposed changing the restrictions in the past, contending heavier loads would damage roads, but despite this truckers won a victory shortly after the end of the war when the legislature boosted the limit for tractors and single axle trailers to 45,000 pounds. The battle over weights is a touchy subject during each session of the General Assembly. The most notable was in 1941 when then State Sen. A. J. Cavalcante, of Uniontown, now congressman-elect, charged on the floor of the upper house that cash had been paid "on the barrelhead" to assure passage of a bill increasing weights. The measure never passed.

The State Internal Affairs Department has come up with a bit of law which undoubtedly is not generally known concerning care of juvenile delinquents. It states in a monthly bulletin that Pennsylvania law prohibits detention of a juvenile in the same building with an adult criminal. Technically, juveniles cannot be detained in the "same building" while awaiting arraignment or transfer to juvenile detention homes. In Pennsylvania, a juvenile is anyone under 18 years of age. The limit was changed from 16 to 18 by the legislature in 1939.

Local option elections which will be held in almost a score of Pennsylvania municipalities during 1946 have spurred early action in the top command of the Pennsylvania Retail Liquor Dealers Association. Vice President J. Grant Peterson, chairman of the Local Option Committee, pointed out that "Drys recognize their stake in a big vote and are out all-year round drumming up support for their unpopular cause." He said tavern keepers, being "on the scene," should be very active in nullifying the footwork of retailers and warned that "unless we retailers do the same, and then triple our efforts on election day, many of us may find ourselves on the 'inside looking in after the 1949 elections'." Peterson said the committee has been organized for quick action in trouble zones but he burden of the work was on the retailer.

The State Tax Equalization Board will file a report soon on the rule, or market, valuations of real estate in Pennsylvania's 2544 school districts. The board, set up by the legislature during the 1947 session, undoubtedly will provide the equitable basis for distributing funds for education. Many districts are levying taxes on the basis of local assessed valuations which in many instances is lower than true value. If subsidies for education are shifted from assessed to actual valuations many districts face state appropriation losses running up to $720 a teaching unit, according to P. H. Wueller, research director for the joint state Government commission.

Pictorial Air
Tour Is Taken
By Lions Club

This seems to be Travel Week with the service clubs. On Monday the Rotarians took a pictorial air tour to Hawaii and on Tuesday at noon in The Castleton the Lions took a pictorial air trip. The Lions' trip was "Wheels Through India," showing the sights of that strange land from automobile vehicles. It was an interesting trip, one that had some of the members humming "On the Road to Mandalay" which isn't in India at all, but Burma. President Henry Broad presided at the luncheon meeting Tuesday.

Miss Norma Donnan
Will Be Missionary
Printer In Africa

'Like father, like son' is commonly heard but in the case of Miss Norma Donnan, of San Jose, Calif., former resident of this city, it will be 'like father, like daughter.'

In a letter just received from Miss Donnan's mother by Woodson W. Collins of The News editorial staff, Mrs. Donnan reports that Norma is at present attending the Simpson Bible Institute of the Christian and Mission Alliance at Seattle, Wash., with the thought in mind of becoming a missionary printer in French West Africa under the Alliance.

Miss Donnan's father, the late A. I. Donnan, was well known in this city as a printer, having worked in and managed a number of shops in New Castle and for a time published the New Wilmington Globe. Due to health reasons the family moved to San Jose, Calif., following residence in Meadville for a short while after leaving New Castle.

Learning the trade to a great extent from her father and having worked in print shops, Norma feels that the need for a printer missionary in Africa is great, so that the Bible might be printed in the native tongues and dialects.

She is taking Bible study at the Washington school and later upon acceptance by the Alliance board for mission duty, will take up her interesting work there in French West Africa where already a number of New Castle Missionaries are working, including Miss Cecelia Lewis, Miss Sallie P. Botham, Rev. and Mrs. Clifford Ryan and Rev. and Mrs. Enos Hess in the Belgian Congo.

A few men have occupied this position in Africa and other foreign fields but it is believed that Miss Donnan will be the first woman ever to hold such a position when she arrives on the African field.

Shenango Seniors
Set For Production
On Friday Evening

"Where's My Baby?" Promises To Bring Plenty Of Laughs At Shenango High School

"Where's My Baby?" the laugh filled comedy of mistaken identity of the Senior class of the Shenango High school which will be presented on Friday evening, December 3 at 8 p. m. in the school auditorium promises to draw a large audience to the school.

For weeks, the members of the cast have rehearsed under the capable direction of Miss Leora McCommon.

Malinda Sleight, who makes here home with Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Braden, R.D. 1, has the part of a young teen-age daughter, named Louella. She has all the quick enthusiasm of the normal adolescent who at one moment is a grown young lady and at another, acts like a child. Malinda's hobby is music and she is a member of the excellent girls' trio.

The man of the Nourland family, aged 17, is played by Walter Zurasky. This part calls for a character who imitates strong-willed men and Walter does an excellent job. Walter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Reinhold Zurasky of R.D. 1. He is another musician, who is a member of the school band and member of the cast of last year's school play.

Ann Morrone is cast as the young Negro mother called Cleopatra Helen Troy Jones. Although she only appears in the last act, Anna has more laughs in her brief appearance than any other character. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmanuel Morrone of R.D. 1. Her many school activities include membership in the Y-Teens.

Some Cabinet
Changes Likely

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—(INS)—White House Secretary Charles G. Ross said today he assumes there will be some changes in President Truman's cabinet, but that the chief executive hasn't made any "as yet."

Ross warned reporters, however, not to "read anything significant in that remark."

The presidential secretary made the statement in response to questions about rumors that Commerce Secretary Sawyer may leave the cabinet.

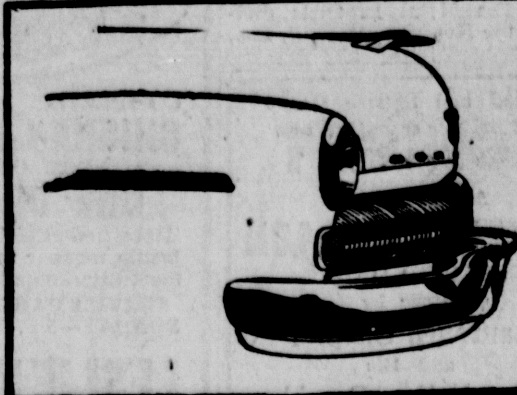

Earlier, Sawyer was asked about the reports as he left the White House after a conference with the president. The commerce secretary replied:

"I'm still here, aren't I?"

New Record For Sustained Flight
By Robot Aircraft

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—(INS)—The navy revealed that one of its guided missiles has set a new world's record for sustained flight by robot aircraft with ram-jet engines.

The record was achieved by a "stovepipe" Gorgon IV which remained aloft for "more than ten minutes". The missile was piloted from the ground by remote control and tracked by radar at Point Mugu, Calif.

The navy reported that the Gorgon IV was kept at subsonic speed during the test but said its ram-jet engine is believed to have "almost unlimited possibilities for driving missiles at speed far in excess of sound".

No figures were given on the distance covered but it was pointed out at only 500 miles per hour the missile could have spanned about 100 miles.

The pilotless projectile was launched from an air force fighter plane and flight information was telemetered back to the ground by an electronic "brain".

The Gorgon IV is an all-metal high-winged monoplane, 22 feet long with a wing span of ten feet. Its gross weight is 1,600 pounds, nearly half of which constitutes 116 gallons of ordinary gasoline.

SCHEDULE NAVY EXAMS.

Graduates of approved medical schools who have completed intern training or will do so by next May are eligible to compete.

Doctors must be less than 32 years of age at the time of appointment and will receive $100 a month extra pay. They must also pass a rigid physical examination.

GAS BLAST DAMAGES HOME
WEST MIFFLIN, Pa., Dec. 1.—(INS)—A gas explosion damaged a West Mifflin home today, but a 5-year-old boy and his parents escaped injury.

Singed hair and eyebrows were the only marks left on Mr. and Mrs. John Jones Jr. and their son, Robert, who were asleep when the blast occurred as a result of a leaking gas line.

While it was supposed that cameos originated in Italy, research shows that nearly every European country, as well as America, produced them.

Will Present North Atlantic Pact To Congress

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—United States officials plan today to have a formalized North Atlantic Alliance pact ready for presentation to the 81st Congress when it convenes in January.

This revelation came on the heels of reports that the ambassadors of the Brussels pact powers in Washington will begin formal talks on the project late this week.

A London foreign office spokesman said that an interim committee which has been preparing the views of the Western European Union powers—Britain, France, Belgium, Netherlands and Luxembourg—has completed its work.

Instructions have been sent to the British Embassy in Washington and on arrival British Foreign Minister Hoyer Miller will seek an interview with Secretary of State Marshall. Presumably his approach will be made in concert with the other top diplomats. It was on this ambassadorial level that the project was undertaken last July before being referred to the committee.

In substance the pact probably will follow that for the American states drafted at Rio De Janeiro last year. The Rio pact provides that each state will regard an attack on another party as an act of aggression against all.

It also provides that, while every state must aid the attacked member, it need not necessarily undertake direct military participation in hostilities.

The United States entered into the North Atlantic Alliance project under the Vandenberg resolution passed in the closing days of the 80th Congress.

This permits the United States to support any regional arrangement, as defined in the United Nations charter, whose support is vital to the security of the United States.

Canada was included in the discussions from the start. It is believed certain that other European powers would be invited to join. Those believed eligible are the Scandinavian states, Ireland and Portugal.

Around Hollywood

By ROLAND HAYES
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 1.—It isn't that Gary Cooper has no ambition.

It's more a case of not having the kind of supercharged ambition with which a considerable portion of Hollywood is smitten.

As a matter of fact, it isn't unlikely that Gary Cooper is the only actor in movieland who has never said that someday he wants to be a producer or a writer or a director.

"I prefer to act," he said today. "And when I'm through acting then I'm through with pictures."

Likes Out-of-Door
Cooper's personal ambitions take the general direction of rods and reels and hunting guns and a rocking chair in the sun.

Having been a picture actor for nearly 25 summers and currently appearing in Warner Bros. "Task Force"—his 58th flicker—Cooper allows that when his retirement time comes, he will be eligible for it. He said:

"If I knew anything special about directing, or if I thought I could make good pictures as a producer, maybe I would be willing to switch careers."

Then he added: "But I doubt it."

Then there's the matter of his 11-year-old daughter, Maria.

Adores His Daughter

Cooper would like to spend a few years of paternal pleasure watching his pretty girl grow into a young woman.

So while today's actors are sweating it out tomorrow, trying to prolong their careers in other branches of the film business, Gary Cooper will be casting flies in mountain streams and bagging ducks in marshlands. And, to be sure, spending a lot of time watching Miss Cooper grow up.

"Culver Pot" Tough

Staunch adherents of old-school poker-playing systems who flinch at even the mere suggestion of seven-card stud will do well never to become inveigled into the game "Culver Pot."

The game was invented some years ago by Roland Culver. It's details were explained by him to Bob Hope and Roland Young between scenes of their hilarious three-handed poker game featured in Paramount's "Easy Does It."

Culver's game in a complicated combination of draw and stud poker, with no less than five "wild" cards.

Hope moaned, after having four aces beaten two ways by royal flushes:

"I'd rather play hearts and invite Rhonda Fleming to play with us. I couldn't win at that, either, but it would be more fun!"

Bethlehem To Usher In Yuletide Celebration

By CONSTANCE KNAUBER
(U. S. A. Staff Correspondent)

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Dec. 1.—A giant star will light the heavens above Bethlehem tomorrow evening, ushering in the traditional Yuletide celebration in the "Christmas city of the U. S. A."

The huge star, unlike the one that guided the wise men to Christ's manger 1948 years ago, will be man-made and electric-powered. But Bethlehem's Christmas spirit—the spirit of joy, friendship and charity—has come down through the centuries.

For about 330 years in the year, Bethlehem is more or less a typical Pennsylvania city—highly industrialized and nestled among rolling hills and farm country.

Entirely New Appearance
But come the Christmas season, Bethlehem takes on an entirely new appearance that few—if any—other cities can equal. Towering Christmas trees—some 50 feet tall—bloom with thousands of multi-colored lights.

Stars and bells sparkle above the streets. Nearly 30,000 more lights, entwined with laurel, outline 40 city blocks and two bridges, tying Bethlehem into as pretty a Christmas package as you could see any place.

But Christmas, to Bethlehem residents, means much more than just lighting up the town.

The very foundations of the city are religious. It was founded 207 years ago by a band of Moravians under Count Nicholas Zinzendorf who had fled religious oppression in Europe.

On their first Christmas eve in America, these Moravians decided to name their little town Bethlehem, in honor of Christ's birthplace and as a symbol of their own "new life."

Tradition Endures
A good bit of early Moravian tradition endures. A Christmas eve vigil is held each year in the Moravian church. Each person holds a lighted candle during the vigil while softly-sung Christmas carols and the fragrance of evergreen fill the church. The candles symbolize the coming of light into the world with the birth of Christ.

At dawn a trombone choir in the church tower will once again herald Christmas day. Later the townsfolk will distribute food and toys to the needy.

Putz-visit is another tradition in Bethlehem. Almost every household has a putz—or miniature of the original stable. Many of the little figures in the putz were hand carved in Europe centuries ago. And friend and stranger alike are welcome to see the putz in the churches and most of the homes.

Beeswax candles, made from centuries-old Moravian molds and sold in the nation's oldest apothecary shop, are also a "must" for a Bethlehem Christmas, as are ginger cookies made from treasured recipes 200 and 300 years old.

Thousands of persons will visit the city while the celebration lasts—from December 2 to January 2.

Charles Trend, secretary of the Bethlehem Chamber of Commerce, says he has had a near-record number of requests for information this year from bus companies in Pennsylvania and other nearby states which will operate sight-seeing trips to the city.

But although Bethlehem's merchants foot most of the bills for the city's decorations and light displays, they are extremely careful not to commercialize on it. They prefer to keep it as a Christmas celebration and not a business come-on.

This year the twin granddaughters of Mayor Robert Pfeifle have been selected to flip the switch in Zinzendorf Square—where Bethlehem's first house was built—that will turn on the city's Christmas lights next Thursday.

The girls, both nurses at St. Luke's hospital, were given the honor partly as the city's thank you to the mayor, who is always active in the Christmas celebration, and partly as a tribute to the nursing profession, which is celebrating its diamond jubilee.

Among the Romans of historic times the Lemures were the souls of the departed, especially of ancestors who hovered about during the night with hostile spirit, and so required propitiation by the surviving descendants.

See Opposition To Truman's New Tax Law Plans

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—President Truman may run up against an 85-year-old gentleman with contrary ideas if he asks the new Congress to speed enactment of a new tax law next year.

The elderly fellow is Rep. Doughton (D) N. C., who isn't in any hurry to pass a new tax bill nor does he care to say what stand he will take if Mr. Truman recommends a tax increase.

Will Become Chairman

Doughton will become chairman of the tax-drafting House Ways and Means Committee January 3, when the Republicans relinquish control of Congress. Sometimes a good party man, on other occasions he has helped block legislation recommended by Mr. Truman and his predecessor.

There has been considerable conjecture that the President will urge Congress to remove the excess profits tax on corporations or boost the regular tax on corporation profits. The President urged the Republican 80th Congress to reduce all individual income taxes $40 annually and offset the revenue lost by a three billion 200 million dollar excess profits tax. Doughton opposed the President's recommendation.

Subsequently, after three vetoes, the Republicans succeeded, with Doughton's help, in enacting into law a five billion dollar individual income tax cut. The President predicted the government would go into the red as a result, but Doughton said he didn't care to comment on that.

The important thing, Doughton said, is that the budget be balanced. He put in this way: "We ought to try to raise sufficient revenue to balance the budget and pay something on the public debt."

Doughton was asked if he would support new taxes to accomplish that, if necessary? Doughton said he would wait until he had received a better picture of next year's revenue prospects.

He said: "Revenue estimates for the next fiscal year can be little more than a guess until the income tax returns due in the early months of 1949 have been received."

These will not be available until after March 15, 1949. It is a logical deduction, Doughton commented, that this would delay his committee in action on new tax legislation.

Emphasizing that he was expressing his personal opinion and could not speak for his committee, Doughton declared that "I don't see now how we can hastily draw up and report out a tax bill."

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

That notorious "criminal lawyer," Abe Hummel, once badgered a witness too hard. The witness was a young prize fighter, and Hummel was trying to force an admission that he had assaulted the defendant before said defendant carved him with a penknife. The fighter finally admitted he had given the defendant a "slight push."

"Slight push, you say," pounced Hummel. "Suppose you step down from the witness chair and show me and the gentlemen of the jury just what you idea of a slight push is."

The fighter's face lit up. "You really mean that?" he said incredulously. Quick as a cat, he was out of the witness box, took a full windup, and landed a roundhouse uppercut smack on Hummel's chin. Hummel went flying across the courtroom like a sack of flour. The fighter dusted off his hands, and confided to the jury, "About one-tenth that hard is my idea of a slight push."

Westminster Floor Squad Strongest in Many Years

Ten Veterans, Plus Fine Freshman Group

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Dec. 1.—With Kent State University, a newcomer, scheduled to open the season, here, Dec. 7, Head Coach Grover C. Washburn of Westminster, has pruned his squad to the size he will carry throughout the season.

Four men who earned letters each of their four years were lost by graduation. They were: Tom Jones, Connelville; Don Heddlewood, East Liverpool; Bill McIlhinney, Cannonsburg; and Dean Nelson, Warren, Pa.

However, there are plenty of vets available. Ten squad members are letter wearers. They are: Chester Dembinski, New Kensington; Don McCullough, Bradford; Bruce Wagner, Cochran; Clyde Shaffer, New Wilmington; Jack Jones, Connelville; Dick Fuhrer, East Brady; Bill Paul, New Kensington; Don Mayberry, New Castle; Jerry Hyder, East Liverpool; and James Spangler, Somerset.

Promising newcomers
The freshman comprise one of the most promising groups to ever enter the college. Included are: Harry and John Abraham, members of Irwin quint which won state class B honors last year; Paul Bischoff, Beaver Falls; Bob Demmon, Leechburg; Ed Halas, Ford City; David Hawbaker, Sewickley; Jerry Sybert, Kittanning; Pat King, Connelville; Donald Short, Emmenton; Neil Simmons, Warren, Pa.; and Rich Paul, Silver Creek, N. Y.

Every one of the newcomers with the exception of the Abraham brothers is more than six feet tall. Lankiest of the group is Ed Halas, 6 feet 4 inches, who was all-state center last year. Hawbaker, Short and Simmons are just an inch shorter.

Washburn refuses to name a starting lineup but he has been using Shaffer and Wagner, forwards; Dembinski, center; McCullough and Jones, guards.

A practice game is scheduled for Saturday night at the Sharon Buhl Club against the Westinghouse.

Dale Tillia Gives Football To 'Kids'

Dale Tillia, star quarterback, and president of the Ellwood City VFW Bolt Busters, is not only a great football player, but has a heart as "big as a mountain" as revealed here Thanksgiving night, and brought to light today.

General Chairman William Sands of the Pro-Indus club following the 23-to-0 victory of the Ellwood Busters over the Wabash Bears, presented the brand new game-football to Tillia as a memento of the occasion as semi-pro champs of Lawrence County.

Give it to Kiddles
Tillia in turn handed the ball back to Sands and said "Here Bill give this to the kiddles at the Margaret Henry Home they will get a big kick out of it."

And so when the grid season rolls around next fall, the young boys of the home will enjoy many pleasant hours with a football that was headed for Ellwood City, until Tillia with his heart of gold stepped in and pointed in the direction of the Margaret Henry Home, Dale (the kiddles say thanks).

Paolone, Ciaella, Beshero Named On All WPIAL Teams

Post-Gazette Selections Favor New Castle's Strong Fullback, Paolone

New Castle received one first place and two honorable mentions in the Post-Gazette All-WPIAL selections announced today.

Ralph Paolone, 195-pound star fullback who has played his final game for New Castle, was picked as the fullback standout in the WPIAL. His mates in the backfield are—Willie Thrower, of New Kensington; Lou D'Acchille, of Beaver Falls; and Pat Gedman, of Duquesne.

Tony "The Rock" Ciaella made honorable mention center and Sam Beshero, a reserve tackle this year made honorable mention.

Bob Inserra, the fine Monongahela right end, who faced New Castle at the stadium last Saturday was chosen one end and Ed Walor of Greensburg, the other end. The tackles were—Dick Modzelewski of Har-Brock and Pete Russo of Ambridge. The center was Nick Nicastro of Farrell, and the guards—Rinaldo Kozikowski of New Kensington and Frank Nassida of Duquesne.

Vote Massachusetts Into NBA Membership

BOSTON, Dec. 1.—(INS)—A special recess committee studying boxing regulations recommended today that Massachusetts become a member of the National Boxing Association.

The recommendation was one of seven in a report filed with the clerk of the house.

At present, Massachusetts and New York are the only two states where boxing is a leading sport that are not members of the association.

The committee pointed out that as a member of the NBA the boxing commission would be kept informed of suspensions of boxers, revocation of licenses and retirement of boxers in other states.

Bessemer Five Plays Opener Friday At Home

Sectional Champs Will Miss Glass And Bandura; Amedure And Ver-lotta Out

With a week of practice completed the Bessemer High school basketball squad is slowly rounding into condition. Off to a late start because of the long football season, Coach Ciccone has his work cut out for him to have the team ready for the opener on December 3rd when North Lima visits Bessemer.

Lost by graduation from last year's sectional winner were Harry Glass and Joe Bundura. Glass will be sorely missed. In addition to ranking among the leading scorers of the section, he led the team's passing and was a capable retriever off both bankboards.

Four Man Nucleus
Jimmy Amedure, likely looking prospect from the 1947-48 reserve team will not be available due to an eye injury sustained in the Mercer football game. James Ver-lotta, 6 foot 3 inch center, had been counted upon to give the team some height, but it now seems doubtful if he will be able to play.

Since the Shenango football game, an illness of the joints has kept him from attending school regularly, and Coach Ciccone is not counting on him, though hopeful that he may join the squad later. August Anderson, Ray Gennaro, Henry Pezuolo, and Chuck Stanley return from the 1947-48 squad.

The centermen will play a six-game exhibition schedule before embarking on their section 23 campaign at East Brook, January 4.

The exhibition contests: Dec. 3, North Lima; Dec. 7, at Evans City; Dec. 10, Alumn; Dec. 14, at Mercer; Dec. 21, Lowellville and Dec. 30, Evans City.

East Brook Edges Alumni 35 To 25

Eagles Open 1948-49 Season With Easy Win Over Former East Brook Stars

East Brook High Eagles opened their 1948-49 basketball season last night by tripping the Alumni 35 to 25.

More than 150 fans saw the Eagles gain a 10-point advantage in the first half and maintain that margin for the rest of the game. Bud Mayberry led the Mathews quintet with four field goals and five tosses from the foul line. Jameson connected with three shots from way out to top the Alumni scorers.

Coach Mathews said today that he knew his boys looked very rough in spots but he thought the difficulties could be ironed out with the additional experience of two or three more games.

Senior Y League Has Close Contests

Three fast games in the senior Y league last night were decided by 1, 2 and 5 point margins. Selmon does play in any league result in having six teams paired in such close matches.

Pete Stack again led the Chiefs to victory with 21 points. It was a nip and tuck game all the way with the Chiefs coming from behind in the last quarter to eke out a win, 39 to 38.

Shines Trim Rebels
G.I. Shine downed the Rebels, 38 to 36, with Carm Sheldone and Chuck Scaglione making 23 of the Shine's markers. Martin's 15 points led the losers.

Individual scoring honors for the evening went to J. Peterson who racked up 22 for the Civics as they edged the Wings, 43 to 38. Macko, who had 10 field goals and a foul toss, was best for the Wings.

'Lefty' Gomez To Speak Here

Former New York Yankee Hurling Ace Will Address Lawrence County Leaguers

"Lefty" Gomez, one of the greatest New York Yankee pitchers of all-time, and a former team mate of the late Gorge "Babe" Ruth and Lou Gehrig, will be the principal speaker at the Lawrence County Baseball league banquet at The Castleton, Saturday night, December 11th. It was announced by Alec Samuels, league secretary today.

Gomez, a colorful figure many years ago with the world champion Yankees, today is a sporting goods company representative, and will fly to New Castle from the minor league ball meeting at Milwaukee.

Bart Richards has been secured as toastmaster for the occasion, the Wampum Victory club will be the honored guests, having been 1948 champions.

Will Honor Champs Thursday Evening

The New Castle Sons of Italy softball team, Beaver Valley Sons of Italy league champions will have a banquet given in their honor at the Rochester Sons of Italy Hall Thursday evening, it was announced today. All Sons of Italy players are to meet at the club at 5:30 o'clock to make the trip. The dinner is slated to start at 6:30 o'clock.

California-Oregon Lead In All-Coast Selections

By JOE ST. AMANT (International News Service Sports Writer)

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 1.—The Pacific Coast Conference titans, California and Oregon, dominate the "Silver Jubilee" all-coast team of International News Service.

As announced today, the Rose Bowl-bound California Bears got five first team positions and Oregon three on the basis of a poll of sports writers up and down the coast.

Jackie Jensen, Cal's explosive all-purpose back, was a near-unanimous choice. Another top favorite of the voters was Oregon's 217-pound center, Brad Eckland.

One Darkhorse
Of all those polled for INS' 25th annual all-coast team, only one sports writer in San Francisco and one in Los Angeles failed to put Jensen on his first team.

Hugh MacLennan, of Little Compton, a two-year college, was the "dark-horse" put forward by the Southern Californian as the greatest fullback "in years."

The San Franciscoan preferred Stanford's Emery Mitchell, who won the fullback post on the second all-coast team.

Pitt Chooses Tom Hamilton, Need Navy Okay

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Dec. 1.—(INS)—Navy Capt. Tom Hamilton said today he will discuss with navy officials this week his offer from the University of Pittsburgh to take over as director of athletics.

Hamilton said: "I am very flattered at the generous offer of the University of Pittsburgh and expect to confer with authorities there as well as navy officials later in the week."

No Further Comment
"Until these conferences take place I am not in a position to make any further comment."

As an active officer, Hamilton is prohibited from negotiating with civilian authorities. He conferred yesterday morning with Rear Admiral James L. Holloway, Jr., Naval Academy superintendent, but it was later reported that he had not submitted his resignation.

The 43-year-old captain has 21 years continuous service and navy sources said he has accumulated enough time to retire any time he sees fit.

Three former Penn State stars have allied with the Sunbury entry in the Eastern Professional Basketball League. Johnny Barr, of Shamokin, is player-coach of the team, with John Rusinko and Nick Dietterick, both of Berwick, on his roster.

Mt. Jackson Faces Hickory Tonight

'Mounties' Height And Experience, Mark Them As Strong Contenders For Title

Mt. Jackson High eagles open what promises to be one of their most successful basketball campaigns in years tonight on the Mountie floor when they meet the Hickory Township quintet.

Coach Francis Webster today announced an ambitious eight game, pre-league schedule to round his boys into shape for the fourteen-game grind to determine the Section 23 championship.

The "Mounties" should be stronger this year because of their height and experience. Bill Emory, a 6-2 senior will return to action after a year's absence due to illness. Emory was one of the high scorers in the section before being forced to the sidelines and his experience should add much to Webster's starting five.

Pat Kerr, a sophomore who played varsity ball last year, Raney Lloyd and Rodgers are the boys from which another forward will be picked to pair with Emory.

Brandt At Center
Ed Brandt, another 6-2 veteran, has just about clinched the center slot. He will be relieved by Moecek who can play either center or forward.

Another Emory, Wayne, who is no relation to Bill, will probably be a starter at guard. Bob McCullough and Bruce Brown both go around 6-2 and with a little more experience will be big assets to the Mounties' defense. Dick Martin, only 5-8, is also slated to see lots of action as an outer sentinel.

Warm-up Schedule
In addition to tonight's Hickory High game, the Mounties pre-league schedule includes home games with Freedom on December 3; Fairfield, Ohio, December 7; and Springfield, Ohio, December 10. The Mounties travel to Evans City, December 18, and the same teams play at Mt. Jackson December 23. The warm-up schedule concludes with two away games. Freedom will be played December 28 and Hickory the last day of the year.

Penn State's basketball team may be forced to open its season against Pitt December 4 minus the services of its ace, Milt Simon. The four-year Erie veteran is on the shelf with a troublesome charley horse.

Zale won't know until January whether he will accept a return match with the Frenchman, who belted him out last summer.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

SEVERAL evenings ago Here & There watched ex-Middleweight Champ George Chip referee some boxing bouts at the Penn Power company's Smoker. While he has cut down his speed, he yet retains some of the class he had when he was the boss of middleweights and later, when he was the third man in the ring at bouts in the Jolly Bowl. In Chip's days as a fighter, there were some mighty good middleweights, and Here & There doesn't mean maybe. Among them were Frank Klaus, Jack Dillon, Mike and Tom Gibbons, Jimmy Clabby, Knockout Brown, Bob Moha, Eddie McGorty and Harry Greb. George was never renowned for cleverness but he possessed both perseverance and aggressiveness. The only time he retreated was when he was knocked back, and then invariably bounded forward again, hoping to land a soporific left hook or a delayed punch, which was something like a straight right to the jaw, sent so far forward, then pulled back, swooped down, then upward toward the chin. George's record shows 34 knockouts of 152 fights. His record follows: Tot., 152; KO, 34; W, 3; WF, 1; D, 3; ND, 96; LKO, 3; L, 9; LF, 3.

Lawrence County Baseball league will hold their annual banquet December 11 in The Castleton, according to President Alex Samuels. Several notables will be among the guest speakers. . . . Ward Reimold is deer hunting. . . . When his handlers were unable to stop the flow of blood from a cut above his eye, Tommy Freeman, of Erie, lost the welterweight title to Jack Thompson on April 14, 1931. It was their third fight, which Here & There witnessed. In 1930 in Cleveland, Freeman won the crown on points in 15 rounds. . . . Bass and Muskie fishing are out. . . . Cecil Suber, Ralph Crisswell and Willis McMullen are on a buck quest. . . . Judging from the number of bucks brought down in Lawrence county, it would have "paid" some hunters to seek the elusive deer near home. . . . The parent game of soccer, of which L. J. Lewis, is a disciple, originated in England in the eleventh century. However, it is contended in Frank G. Menke's Encyclopedia of Sports, that the football was played by the Greeks under the name Harpton. The game is believed to have actually originated in Sparta. The Encyclopedia also reports that the greatest swordsman of modern times, and one of the most superb of all times, is Aldo Nadi of Italy, who came to America in 1935. He began fencing when he was only four years old. . . . Top weight for a Kodiak brown bear is said to be about 1,000 pounds. A big bull Buffalo weighs 2,000. . . . Anyone seen any Elk while deer hunting? Indications are there'll be no fistic whirls in The Arena, December 8, Bobby Neal of Beaver Falls having asked an exorbitant price to show his wares here. Apparently Bobby feels his victory over Irish Jimmy Sanders merits a $200 jump in his price for eight rounds, hence he has been side-tracked by Matchmaker Tommy Leach.

If there were to be 30,000 bucks taken during the current deer season in Pennsylvania, and they were to average 100 pounds each, it would mean a meat supply of three million pounds on hand. That is a nice pile of good eating. What happens to this meat asks Seth Myers of the Northwest division of Pennsylvania Sportsmen. Some of it is eaten, but what about the rest? How many of the successful hunters make it their business to see that none of the meat goes to waste? Some times of course, it spoils because people do not have proper refrigeration available. Other times, it is pure neglect. The game law prevents the hunter selling his surplus meat. There is nothing in the law however, to prevent giving it to charitable organizations. It could then be distributed free to the needy who would be thankful for such nourishing food. The Salvation Army would very likely cooperate in such a plan. It has knowledge of whom are in need of food. Hunters could donate their surplus meat to a venison pool of the organization. It could be held in a local refrigeration storage for issue under proper supervision.

No Standouts On Eastern Gridiron

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—(INS)—A consensus of college and professional football coaches and scouts indicates there were no super-stars on eastern gridiron this season.

In compiling its annual All-East All Star football team this year, International News Service found that no one player was a unanimous choice as were Doc Blanchard and Glen Davis of the Army two years ago.

Chuck Bednarik, Penn's All-American last year, came closest to being a unanimous selection.

Every coach and scout reported a remarkable shortage of good ends and there was no Bill Swiacki among them.

Baseball Goes To Installments

General Manager John Quinn of the Boston Braves announced the club is putting into effect a system to permit purchases of season and semi-season tickets on the budget plan.

The Wildcats may not beat California, but the feeling is if Notre Dame couldn't run Northwestern out of the park, California certainly isn't going to.

(International News Service Sports Writer)NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—There wasn't a great deal that Navy Coach George Sauer felt called upon to confide today, now that everybody at Annapolis had settled down to simple, straight-forward demerits over Saturday's 21-21 Army tie.At that, Academy sources had him making a nice gesture, with a self-effacing—"Give the team the entire credit. I do."However, it was what Sauer didn't say that counted.
He didn't, for instance, say this was the end of the "lucker era" in Naval Academy football. But, take it from those well situated on the definitely is.Watch Navy 1949

From this point, the Navy, it seems, proposes to change over from the spontaneous to the "objective"—the difference between letting and making things happen.The trouble with the first way is that somehow not enough things happen to the other guy. Navy football, which hadn't won a game in 13 straight going into Satur-furnish a little direct testimony on that point.But it seems that's all over now;

Fatalities OccurBy BILL CORUM
(International News Service Sports Writer)NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The 1948 college football season has been mediocre in my opinion. I haven't seen any individual stars about whom to rave.There are a couple of outstanding teams. Michigan and Notre Dame, of course. Army and Penn State are very good. Northwestern and S. M. U. must be up there somewhere. California, perhaps.If college football hasn't had a banner season, I'm convinced that it has had a lucky one, up to now.
Lucky in that in the far too numerous occurrence of injuries there haven't been fatalities.Getting Too Rough It's my feeling that the game is getting too rough, too machine-like, to be a game. Perhaps the fact that there hasn't been a fatality to shock the country has lulled the powers-that-be in football into a false sense of security.I see youngsters in football dressing rooms that are worse beaten up and banged up and exhausted than losing prizefighters.
Once, when the inevitable fatality occurred—a young man named Christian killed in a Virginia and George Washington game—President of the United States (Theodore Roosevelt) stepped in and stopped football.Scarcely mollycoddle, Teddy. would you say? Nor is Elmer Layden, one of the "four horsemen" late a coach and pro football commissioner, a chap that you could put away as a softie.Notables Agree You wouldn't figure Steve Owen of the Giants as a fellow to shake and shiver over a bloody nose, or even a busted one. He used to tackle Nagurski, or try to,
as he would be the first to correct my optimism.Layden and Owen both seem to have the feeling that college football is becoming too much of a panzer tank business.When men who know as much football as these two become alarmed, it seems to me that the time has come to stop and think.
Recently Bill Bingham announced that the plastic helmet now in use was dangerous and that it would not be permitted
"after next season." Why the extra year?If something is dangerous the time to stop its use certainly would seem to be now. Not after some youngster had died of a brain concussion.Rose Bowl Worried
All autumn I've been reading that the Rose Bowl people didn't want the "second best team in the Big Ten" to come to Pasadena for the New Year's Day annual. Although a deal was made that a Big Ten team was not to follow itself into the Rose Bowl, in this case, Michigan, they wanted the Wolverines back again. No Northwestern. No Ohio State.
This is typical of the state of mind in college football that I think dangerous—the terrific em-phasis on victory in what is essentially just a ball game for boys.
Because don't forget those "brutes" out there in the helmets and football suits, big and tough and rough though they may appear on the field, are just boys.
Big, without padding and helmets the majority of them are. But kids, withal.The time has come for some soul-searching in football. I believe. By the coaches particularly.
Less emphasis on victory. Less emphasis on relatively unimportant championships. This game belongs to the lads who play it. Nobody else. Let's be sure and keep it that way.Villanova Meets

Harbor Bowl GamePHILADELPHIA, Dec. 1.—(INS)—
Twice-beaten and once-tied Vil-

SHERWIN WILLIAMS PAINTS

O. S. A., moderator of athletics at Villanova, who said the Wildcats will be "most happy" to battle Nevada.The Nevadans have been beaten once, a stunning 14-0 upset at the hands of Santa Clara, one of the nation's top "spoilers."In addition to Nevada, Santa Clara likewise was the only team to whip Oklahoma, Sugar Bowl opponent of North Carolina.
Nevada possesses the more impressive record of the two Harbor Bowl teams.Heath Holds Record Beaten but once, Nevada led the nation in total offense, averaging 484.8 yards per game, and in passing.Quarterback Stan Heath set a national collegiate passing record, averaging 268.9 yards were game through the air.Nevada's victims this season included Tulsa, St. Mary's and San Francisco.
Villanova lost to Army, 28-0, and Boston college, 20-13, and was tied in the final minute of play by Kentucky, 13-13.Although most teams avoid over-scheduling double-header basketball because of the high mortality involved in meeting the nation's toughest competition, LaSalle College welcomes these difficult twin bills and will engage in 16 this year.Lou Boudreau Voted Most Valuable Player
In American LeagueBy LAWTON CAERW
(International News Service Sports Editor)NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Lou Boudreau, acclaimed today as the American League's most valuable player, won the honors by a margin in the votes equal to the edge he personally held on his colleagues.He came within 12 points of a perfect 336 in the Baseball Writers Association balloting to win the honor by the greatest landslide in history.
In all-around ability as manager, shortstop and hitter he was the greatest thing on any baseball diamond last season as he led the Cleveland Indians to the world championship.

Never Any Doubt

There never was any doubt as to whether he would get the most valuable player award, but none could foresee that he would come so close to polling all the points.
Out of 24 votes he received for first place, one for second and one for fourth. The voters who placedhim second and fourth should be forthwith disenfranchised.He wound up with 324 points against 213 for runnerup Joe Di-Maggio, of the New York Yankees, who earned the award in 1947.Ted Williams, of the Boston Red Sox, runnerup to DiMaggio in last year's balloting, finished third this time with 171 points.Against William's 23 first place votes, DiMaggio received two and Williams was shutout.In the balloting 14 points are given for first place, nine for second then one point less for each place through 10 places.The highest previous total ever polled in either league was 323 first places and 319 points by Stan Musial, of the St. Louis Cardinals in 1936.Let's remind Bill Veech, owner of the Cleveland Indians, that this Boudreau is the guy he tried to trade to the St. Louis Browns last spring.Santa Suggests
